

Collection for a Cause Preservation

Benefitting the International Quilt Study Center & Museum

19

Dating to 1830, the original Medallion quilt from England that inspired this Preservation collection features a series of five different patchwork borders framing a unique, pre-printed panel that remains uncut. This is a classic style of Northumberland patchwork from the first half of the nineteenth century.

Collection for a Cause - Preservation is the 19th in the series, this time benefitting the International Quilt Study Center & Museum in Lincoln, Nebraska. Created to be a dynamic learning center for teachers, scholars, artists and quilters, the Study Center houses a comprehensive and accessible collection of quilts, related textiles and documents for the purpose of study, insight and inspiration.
